

newspaper production :: scott winter.

whether you're a newb or an old-schooler, all staff will learn new newspaper layout and the latest design techniques. bring a laptop with your school's software.

yearbook production :: laura schaub.

start the year off right by choosing a theme that allows for coverage and good storytelling. Enhance designs and learn to find inspiration through coverage and better writing. bring a laptop with your school's software.

editorial leadership :: dean hume.

editors-only club. learn to be a leader using cordiality and respect. hone your management style as you make plans for the upcoming year. time will be allotted to work with your staff.

journalistic writing :: duane roberson.

sometimes going back to the basics is the trend. for old and new alike, journalism basics must rock the core of your publication. then, expand on those basics to develop commanding stories.

photography :: bruce thorson.

arm yourself with a camera and hit the pavement in search of the next best photograph that you'll shoot and then edit in Photoshop. any or no experience welcome. bring a laptop with Photoshop and a camera.

convergence :: matt rasgorshek.

writing, video and photography coincide for the Internet or television. newspaper production or photography courses beneficial, but new video journalists are welcome. bring a laptop with the school's software.

camp cost: $300

scholarship deadline 5/20/11

scholarship recipients notified by 5/31/11

registration postmark by 6/4/11